Sorocaba, May 5th

For the required purposes.

Ugo Caramori, student enrolled in the fourth year of medical school, has always shown interest in Public Health and Social Medicine, making his academic activities in this area remarkably well.

I've been following him since his first year.

Ugo is a student that concerns himself in linking his graduation and its realizations for his further career on principles that turn him into a health professional who recognizes equity as a determinant in his practice.

I was very happy, as his teacher, to find out that he'll be participating in the "Health Equity" program in Albuquerque. I believe it is a moment of great importance for his career and that his experiences when brought back here will be extremely important for structuring projects of assistance to homeless services in Sorocaba.

My regards,
